What A Costly Move

Away back in December, 1942, the then Hon. T. B. McQuesten, was Minister of Highways for Ontario. In his political wisdom he decided to move the offices of Residency Number Four from Grimsby to an isolated farm house situated in the Dundas Marsh in the township of West Flamboro.

The Independent at that time flailed the "Hon." Mr. McQuesten for making this move and taking the offices away from Grimsby, where they had been located for a quarter of a century. At that time the Editor of The Independent predicted that an election was in the offing and that that was the reason for the move, as the offices would be located in Mr. McQuesten's constituency. The Editor also predicted that the move would do Mr. McQuesten no good. And it didn't, for he was trimmed to a fare-ye-well when the Drew Government swept into power.

Now, with what little wisdom our present Minister of Highways has, he apparently has enough to move the offices back into civilization, but not back far enough. He is moving the residency headquarters into Hamilton, whereas he should have moved them back to their original location—GRIMSBY.

The following news item from the pages of The Hamilton Spectator, very quietly, almost slinkingly, tells the story:-

"The Hamilton division headquarters of the Ontario Department of Highways, located for the last five years at the former Raspberry farm, bordering the Dundas marsh, and prior to that in the town of Grimsby, will, in the very near future, be moved into this city to what is considered by officials a much more central point."

"The Union Drawn Steel Company's office building, corner Victoria and Webber Avenues, has been purchased by the Highways Department and will be taken over as division headquarters just as soon as the Union Drawn Steel can move into its newly erected building on Burlington Street."

This paper would like to know just how much all this moving has cost the citizens of the Province of Ontario, in more ways than what the ordinary taxpayer can observe upon the surface.

payer can observe upon the surface.

The files of The Independent show most emphatically that at the time McQuesten moved the offices and staff from the very Heart of Civilization into complete isolation in the Dundas Marsh that ex-Mayor Edric S. Johnson and Town Council offered to sell the Anderson property on Main street east to the Department for a ONE DOLLAR BILL.

How many DOLLAR BILLS has the moving of these offices cost the public since December, 1942?

How much did McQuesten's quest for the retaining of his seat in the Provincial House cost the taxpayer when he moved the offices and tried to convert a dilapidated old farm building into a palatial Wall Street business office?

How much is this second move that Doucett is making going to cost the country? You can bet your life that the Department is not getting the property they have purchased in Hamilton for a half a dozen gum wrappers.

The offices of residency Number Four should never have been moved away from Grimsby, if for no other reason than an economic one. Now that they are being moved out of the swamps, they never should have been located in Hamilton, but should have been moved right back to Grimsby, if for no other reason than an economic one.

I do not think that Mr. Doucett is going to be Minister of Highways too long. He is making too many foolish moves, particularly with the taxpayers who live and try to do business along the Queen Elizabeth Way and No. 8 Highway through the Fruit Belt.

A last question. Have the people of Lincoln any representation in The House???

GRIMSBY'S PREFABRICATED CONCRETE HOUSE

Here is the house under construction that Don Richey of The Independent, told you all about in our issue of September 25th. It is being constructed by Don Morton on his property, Morton Heights, on the first plateau of the mountain opposite the West Lincoln Memorial hospital. The walls are cement panels joined together with mortar and bolts. Insulation is aluminum foil sheets. The floor is of concrete with all heating pipes, plumbing and electric wiring underneath. The building which contains 1800 square feet of floor space is all on one floor with a double car garage attached to the house proper by a breezeway. At least two thirds of the south wall is of double glass with a quarter inch air space between. Each one of the concrete panels shown in this picture weighs between 350 and 400 pounds and are placed in position with a winch. The panels are moulded right on the job. This is the first house of this type to be erected in the Niagara Peninsula and one of the very few in Ontario.—Photo by Robert Alldrick.

Town Council Will Purchase and Ship to Great Britain $400 Worth of Canned Foods—Build-Permits to The Tune of $42,565 Issued—A Very Light Session.

Business at Town Council last night was light, the biggest matter of importance being the decision of the legislators to purchase as a wedding gift to Princess Elizabeth, $400 worth of canned foods to be shipped to the people of Britain.

Mayor Bull brought the question to the fore and after some quiet discussion as to the best means to proceed with the matter the following motion was passed unanimously:

Johnson-Bonham — "That the Town of Grimsby purchase at wholesale price, $400 worth of canned food to be forwarded to Great Britain as a gift to Princess Elizabeth, upon her forthcoming marriage. Goods to be forwarded in conjunction with other merchandise being sent by other municipalities to be determined later."

Building permits for the largest amount of money, ever passed by council at one sitting were granted. The total amount of money involved is $42,565. The permits were as follows:

Alf. LePage, new residence on Kingsway boulevard, $6,000.

C. Lumley and Son, five permits for five new residences on Roslyn avenue in the Aitchison survey, (Continued on page 12)

FURNISHING HOME FOR COUNTY BLIND PEOPLE

It is Estimated That Each Bedroom Will Cost $250 — Total Cost Will Be About $15,000.

A meeting of the building committee was held last Thursday at the St. Catharines office of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to discuss furnishing of the new Niagara Peninsula home and centre for the blind.

Those present were George Riley, Welland; H. Wilson and E. Parker, Niagara Falls; T. H. Balard and William Snoddy, Dunnville; L. F. Beattie, K. Adams and C. Ber of St. Catharines; Mr. A. V. Wer and Mr. A. N. McGill of Toronto. After a considerable discussion it was unanimously approved that orders should be placed immediately for furniture in line with the suggestions submitted.

The cost of furnishing one bedroom will be $250. The total cost for furnishings and equipment will be in the neighborhood of $15,000. be in the neighborhood of $15,000. Sufficient funds have been raised to date for the land and another $10,000 will be required to cover the cost of furnishings.

The committee was pleased to learn that already a number of individuals and organizations have volunteered to finance the furnishing of a room. This interest and support is greatly appreciated.

The walls are completed, and on and they are now working on the installation of a heating system. Some hope that end of the year.

Guidance Is An Inescapable Responsibility Tells Teachers — Basic Reading Program Must Be Reconstructed — Remarkable Display Of Arts Work.

Lincoln County Public School Teachers held their annual convention at Grantham Consolidated School on Friday last. The convention was concluded with a banquet at the Hotel Leonard Friday.

Principal speaker at the banquet was H. R. Beattie, director of guidance, Ontario Department of Education. He stressed the philosophy of guidance in the schools rather than the method.

"Guidance is the slow, often difficult process of helping a student to help himself. As practised by those who understand its true purpose, it offers no magical formula. It is, however, a concerted effort on the part of all school personnel, assisted by the efforts of trained counsellors, to get young people to realize that decisions based on facts are more likely to bring success and happiness than decisions based on mere whims and hearsay."

Mr. Beattie sprinkled his talk with personal experiences with students who came to him demanding he find just what they were suited for. He explained that the guidance expert tried to find out the young persons' interests, then aptitudes and abilities.

He concluded by saying, the question has never been, shall we do guidance work in our schools? The question is: How shall we do guidance work in our schools? Guidance is an inescapable responsibility."

Speaking at the morning session, C. B. Routley, assistant superintendent of elementary education, spoke on "Reading in the Elementary Schools." "The time has come," Mr. Routley said, "for us teachers to reconstruct our basic reading program, so that remedial reading in the higher grades would be unnecessary. In other words a preventative rather than a remedial program is needed in all our grades."

At the banquet a glowing tribute was paid to E. N. Comfort, who is resigning, by Wilfred Crandon of (Continued on Page 5)

Lion Chief Aub. Crich Took Several Baskets Of The Luscious Fruit With Him To The Lions Convention — First Dinner Meeting Of Year — Membership Of Grimsby Club Increased.

"From Cherry Trees to Redwood Trees," or "Taking Coals to Newcastle," either one would have been a good caption for Lion Chief Aub. Crich's splendid talk to the Lions Club at their opening dinner meeting for 1947-48, in the beautiful Oak Room of The Village Inn on Tuesday evening.

Lion Chief Aub. was one of the Ontario delegates to the Lions Convention in San Francisco the last week of July.

Previous to leaving Grimsby a number of Lions conceived the idea that he should take several baskets of luscious Grimsby cherries with him, which he did. After betting aboard the Lions Special train at Chicago, Lion Aub. decked himself out with two large placards, sandwich board fashion, and started to carefully dole out cherries to the delegates aboard that train. Eventually he became known as "The Cherry Man." At Clovis, N.M., he got himself into the movies with his placards and cherries. He managed to save some of the cherries until his arrival in the Golden Gate city where his final distribution was made. Without a doubt this stunt was a wonderful piece of advertising for the Great Grimsby Fruit Belt.

His description of the trip and the doings at the convention was a most splendid one and was listened to with rapt attention by the Lions for 50 minutes.

There were many highlights on the journey, some serious and educational, some amusing. There were 90 Ontario men aboard the train including Aub and Lion Leo Martin of Jordan Station, a member of Beamsville Lions Club. They received a scare as they neared California when it was announced that one of the dining car waiters had developed Chicken Pox and then a little later it was thought he had Smallpox. Whatever it was that he (Continued on Page 5)

MORE ROOM PROVIDED AT DOMINION STORE

Rear Partition And Big Refrigerator Moved Back 20 Feet — New Shelves And Display Stands Installed.

When the A. & P. ceased doing business in Grimsby the first week in September a large volume of grocery business had to be taken care of by the other local grocers, as a result all of them have been handling more business than ever before.

A large percentage of the A. & P. business found its way to the Dominion Store and as a result the store is being enlarged to take care of this trade. The partition and large refrigerator at the rear of the store has been moved back 20 feet and new shelves have been built on each side of the store and new display cases placed in the middle of the floor.

At the present time the store staff under Manager Michael Roman has been increased to two steady employed men and two steady employed girls as well as Mr. Roman, with three extra help employed on Saturdays.

The addition of the 20 feet in length and the new shelves and display cases make a great improvement to the store as well as providing a lot more room for shoppers.

NEW CHEMICALS TO AID FRUIT GROWERS

British Columbia Fruit Industry Depends For Survival Upon Organic Chemicals Recently Developed.

Fruit growing, never the simplest form of agriculture, is becoming an even more complicated business. In British Columbia, for example, the 30-million dollar fruit industry depends for its survival upon organic chemicals unheard of until a few years ago.

Next year, many Okanagan and Similkameen Valley growers will simultaneously control their three most serious apple pests with a mixture of dichlorodiphenyltrichloroethane and monoethanolamine dinitrocylohexylphenolate.

The first of these polysyllables is commonly known as DDT. Used alone DDT does a fine job of controlling moth control but actually increases the severity of orchard mite infestations. DDT kills the natural enemies of the mites but does not kill the mites themselves. Enter the second substance with the even longer name; this is exceedingly poisonous to orchard mites, evidently not injurious to their natural enemies. (Continued on page 5)

HARRIS MOTORS PURCHASES WEST END MOTORS BUSINESS

H. G. Harris Of Hamilton, Heads New Firm — Was 10 Years Supervisor For This District For B-A Products — Business Was Originally Established In 1919.

One of the best known garage and service station businesses in the Fruit Belt has changed hands. The well and popularly known West End Motors has been purchased by Mr. H. G. Harris of Hamilton, and in future will be known as Harris Motors, who will continue to handle British-American products and will also retain the Ford Agency.

Mr. Harris comes to Grimsby knowing the district well as for the past 10 years he has been supervisor of the Peninsula for B-A products.

West End Motors was originally established in 1919 when two General Motors men came to Grimsby and purchased the J. M. Lawrie livery stable and property where the Smith and Bourne stores now are. In 1922 they sold out the business to the late Bert Shantz and Edw. Brubaker who operated at the original stand for a few years and then moved to the garage on Main street now known as Home-Town Motors.

In 1929 the fine old Randall home at the corner of Main and Elizabeth streets was purchased and razed and the present fine brick garage and service station erected. Three years ago Mr. Brubaker sold his interests in the firm to Mr. Shantz and took up farming on the Thirty Mountain. Mr. Shantz continued to operate the business until his demise this past summer.

The Independent welcomes Mr. Harris to town and wishes him every success in his new venture.

One of the most polite and courteous Canadians I know is Irene Baird, of Vancouver, now Information Officer of the Department of Mines and Resources in Ottawa, and first woman in Canada to hold this position. Mrs. Baird is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd, of Victoria; she is the mother of June, attending University of British Columbia, and of Ron, in Ottawa.

I first met Irene Baird in Mexico last year where she was attached to the Canadian embassy as representative of the National Film Board and Canadian Information Board. In her travels, Mrs. Baird talks to practically every rank of person, from the prime minister or president of a country to a poor peasant, and any time I have seen her I have noticed that her courtesy and graciousness in addressing them doesn't vary a degree.

Asked to tell us about her personal rules of etiquette, Irene Baird said she believes in extending the same type of manners, courtesy and cheerfulness to everyone she meets, whether it is at a diplomatic reception or in the poorest native hut. She doesn't approve of anyone who has "two sets of manners."

She believes in a smile! Irene Baird said a warm, pleasant smile can do more than anything else to establish a friendly basis between two people, even if they don't speak the same language.

Other people can take a tip or two from Mexicans when it comes to the gracious way of doing things, Irene Baird said. It is true they are not always on time for an appointment. In fact, they don't always keep an appointment that has been made. However, they are so generally kindly, thoughtful and polite that you might say it is almost a pleasure to be "stood up" by a Mexican.

One of their niceties is the way they sometimes say good-bye to a new acquaintance. If two Mexicans like each other on meeting for the first time, they do not say "good-bye" on parting. Instead they speak Spanish words meaning "my house is yours," thus indicating they want to continue the friendship.

QUESTIONS—ETIQUETTE—ANSWERS

BRIDALS: "A Reader," Revelstoke, B.C., writes: "When there is a matron of honor and a bridesmaid, which one of these two holds the bride's bouquet and signs the register. Also, how do they walk to the altar and back, and with whom?"

ANSWER: The maid or matron of honor is really the chief bridesmaid and to her goes the privilege of holding the bride's bouquet during the ring ceremony and also of signing the register. On entering the church the bridesmaid walks down the aisle first, then the matron of honor, followed by the bride on her father's right arm. After the ceremony, the maid or matron of honor, on the arm of the best man, follows the bride and groom down the aisle. The bridesmaid follows the matron of honor and is escorted by an usher.

TEENAGER: D. M., Edmonton, Alta., writes: "Sometimes I am the house guest of my school chum and her family. I always wonder at bedtime, whether I should suggest going to bed or they should."

ANSWER: It is correct for either guests or hostess to do so. In the case of a young guests particularly, the hostess can suggest she might be sleepy, and is at liberty to turn in any time she wishes. But, if the hostess doesn't bring up the subject, it is quite in order for the guest to say she's ready for bed and slip away.

JUNIOR ETIQUETTE: A.D., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I am a girl of 17. If a young man is introduced to me when I am sitting down, should I stand up?"

ANSWER: No, not unless there is a big crowd around and so much chatter that you can't hear each other speak. Then, it is better to stand up so you can carry on a normal conversation.

Readers are invited to address etiquette problems to Claire Wallace. Write Claire Wallace, care The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby, Ontario, Canada. Replies will appear in this column.

LAST STRAW

The young lady's modish attire bespoke wealth and the eager clerk, with visions of a large order in the offing, put in strenuous hour showing her the various rolls of linoleum in stock.

At last he admitted: "I'm very sorry, madam, but that's all we have in stock here. I'll get some more pieces from the factory if you'll call back again."

"Yes, I'll do that," she agreed. "Do try to find me something with very small designs—something suitable for putting in the bottom of a bird cage."

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

The marriage vows had been exchanged, the wedding breakfast finished, and now Sandy, red-faced and all a-flutter was conducting his bride out of the home of his new father-in-law. Yet, in all of his embarrassment, he did not forget his native Scottish caution. Outside he glimpsed leaden skies, he turned, and, reaching through the door, took hold of the umbrella hanging there.

"Na, na, Sandy," admonished the bride's father. "That's my umbrella; dinna take that!"

"Mon, mon," protested Sandy. "Hae ye no sense o' proportion? Ye hae given me yer daughter, and yet ye object to me using yer wee umbrella?"

"That I do, Sandy," the old man answered. "Laddie, I still hae five daughters, but I hae only one umbrella!"

DELIGHTFUL DATE DRESS

By ALICE ALDEN

There is no complaint from the early teen-age group when it comes to the clothes designed for them this fall, especially when it is Emily Wilkens who is doing the designing. Typical of this young designer who knows the requirements of the young crowd so well, is this delightful date dress that manages to be very smart without sacrificing youthful charm. Of gray crepe, it is tricked out with silver buttons and has a neat side-draped skirt.

NEW CLOSET WALLPAPER CONTAINS INSECTICIDE

DDT insecticide, proven during the war to be one of the most effective means of pest control yet developed has been incorporated in a new type of ready-pasted cedar closet wallpaper.

Moths, ants, flies, mosquitoes, silverfish and many other insects die shortly after coming in contact with this new wallpaper, which contains 5 per cent of active DDT insecticide in the top coating, the manufacturer claims. It is non-hazardous to human beings and domestic animals.

The DDT which in the past has been apparent as a white powder when sprayed or otherwise applied to wallpaper has been dyed to the correct color during the manufacture of this new wallpaper, and so incorporated into the product that it does not show and will not rub off. Guaranteed effective for a year or more, the new wallpaper is similar in appearance to the cedar closet wallpaper which homemakers have been using for many years to line closets, bureau drawers and clothes chests.

About the $100 Bonus Bendix Owners Get?

It's a fact! Through the years your Bendix can pay you back $100 or more with the pennies it saves on soap alone!

That's because the Bendix gets a whole load of clothes spanking clean on just a few tablespoonfuls of soap!

MANY MORE DOLLARS SAVED ON HOT WATER AND CLOTHES!

Unlike other washers which require enough water to submerge the clothes, the Bendix operates on the better-washing "Tumble-Action" principle. Clothes are tumbled in and out of a small amount of active suds hundreds of times . . . so gallons of hot water are saved.

No rub, scrub and twist, either! Clothes last longer because the gentle "tumble-action" saves wear and tear.

So don't be fooled by the price tag on a "bargain" washer. Consider all the costs and you'll agree the biggest value is the Bendix.

HOW THE BENDIX WORKS . . .

Gently, but thoroughly, the Bendix washes, triple-rinses, and damp-drys the clothes . . . automatically . . . even when you're not in the house.

THE MIXING BOWL
BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello, Homemakers! Electricity in the home contributes to brighter, happier living. However, we are now going into the period when the end of daylight saving time and the approach of "shorter" days call for the careful use and the wise management of electrical home appliances, so that sufficient power will be available to supply all essential needs.

Hydro is building many new power plants but it has been more difficult to obtain necessary materials than you can imagine. For instance, their building job needs not just a few nails—but kegs and kegs of them. Power site construction jobs often require 2,000 pounds of nails daily, not to mention cement, steel and wire. New construction takes time, but meanwhile we must do our share to make electricity continuously available. Use it sparingly before meal hours—the period when the strain on the machines is the greatest.

To help in maintaining our economical Hydro service which is hard-pressed at this time, we list the following things you can do.

To Conserve Electricity

1. Do not leave lights on in rooms not in use.
2. Keep light bulbs and reflectors clean.
3. Place lamps to best advantage for eye comfort.
4. Do not use coloured light bulbs—dark colours absorb light.
5. Use white lamp shades to reflect as much light as possible.
6. Turn all units on range to low or off when food begins to steam.
7. Make use of all stored heat in surface elements; e.g., heating water.
8. Cook as many foods as possible in oven at one time.
9. Use flat bottomed, tight-covered utensils that fit the element.
10. Use small quantities of water for cooking and cook with pressure cooker often.
11. Do not use your electric range to heat your kitchen.
12. Defrost your refrigerator regularly—once a week.
13. Do not open refrigerator door more than necessary.
14. Do not waste hot water if you have an electric water heater.
15. Do not run your washing machine too long—not over 12 minutes per wash.
16. Do not dampen clothes too much for ironing.
17. Do not operate radio unless you are listening.
18. Do not leave appliances "on" when not in use.

Anne Allan invites you to write to her c/o The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby, Ont., Can. Send in your suggestions on homemaking problems and watch this column for replies.

TAKE A TIP

1. Health-wise shoppers buy for food value.
 2. Save food values and you save food.
 3. The amounts of food needed vary with age, occupation and sex.
1. As a substitute for pudding sauce this year try pink, strained, applesauce with the addition of your favourite spice or one drop of anise flavouring.
 2. To replace salad dressing.

HAPPY OVER CLOTHES

A couple of German youngsters in the American zone show their happiness by hugging each other after receiving new clothes for the first time in their young lives. The clothing was made by their parents from material received in a "Care" (Committee for American Relief for Europe) box.

cream a package of soft cheese with 1 tsp. dry mustard and top milk to a sauce consistency, then add a tsp. of vinegar.

3. Economy in relishes is easy if you cut pencil size pieces of white turnip and dip in a mixture of paprika and celery salt.

4. To fresher rolls for a special occasion, we suggest adding a dash of nutmeg to $\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk, sprinkle on rolls, place them in a paper bag and heat in moderate oven.

5. An open-face raisin pie will save shortening—or enable you to bake a few tarts with the extra pastry.

MY WEEK

(By R. J. DEACHMAN)

This is a story of a man who writes and for those who read what has been written. It shows the difference between freedom and communism. The two are wide as the poles apart. This then is life as two men view it from different angles and from different places.

Mr. Edwin L. James is a distinguished journalist on the staff of the New York Times. Mr. Zaslavsky is the editor of Pravda, the organ of the Communist Party in Moscow.

There was an exchange of letters between them. Mr. James wrote:

"We have our Constitution and our Bill of Rights. We are not going to throw them overboard to please the Russians."

When this appeared in Pravda it read as follows:

"The American Constitution and Bill of Rights allow all United States citizens the right of lying and slandering with no threat of punishment."

To which Mr. James very quietly and fittingly replied:

"This is rather on the cheap side of propaganda. Surely you could have done better."

This will probably go down in history as one of the world's great masterpieces of understatement. Zaslavsky wrote caustically about capitalistic newspaper monopoly:

"What monopoly?" Mr. James asked. "There are in the United States some 10,000 owners of newspapers, daily and weekly. They are of every degree and shade of opinion. Added together, they represent a cross-section of American opinion, expressing all angles of opinion in our free country. Where is the monopoly?"

"But in your country, sir, all newspapers must toe the line of the Politburo. There is one newspaper control against our 10,000. Who has a monopoly?"

Mr. James goes on to point out that the Government of Russia responds on the foundation of the Communist party, numbering some 3 per cent of the population. So when we discuss freedom of the press we are as far off in our terms as when we call our Government a democracy and you call yours a democracy. The New York Times publishes all sides of every argument, even the anti-American speeches of Mr. Gromyko, but Mr. Zaslavsky prints what the Communist party wish to see him print.

"Here is another point of difference," says Mr. James: "I can quit The Times when I like and would probably be able to get a position on a newspaper of quite contrary tendencies—one which, for example, stuck to a party position through thick and thin. There is nothing to prevent my doing so. This is a free country. But you have to go on grinding out Communist propaganda or stop writing. There is no opposition paper to which you can go."

In Mr. Zaslavsky's letter there appears this sentence: "We stand for the broadest freedom of the press." "All right," says Mr. James, "I make a suggestion: "An important factor in the Russian economy is the use of forced labor. You have millions working under duress. Since your Government keeps it secret there is no public knowledge of how many millions Moscow has toiling under such conditions. There are not only war prisoners, there are some millions of your own countrymen in re-educational concentration camps. The number has been estimated anywhere from 8,000,000 to 14,000,000. And I have never seen an official denial of these allegations."

"Why not exercise your journalistic freedom by giving the world a picture of these concentration camps. If you will write such an article this newspaper will be glad to publish it and I would be willing to apologize for calling you a phony."

This leaves it up to Mr. Zaslavsky, doesn't it? Well, rather!

PROPER CLOTHING

Dress for the day—according to climate—say the doctors. It isn't smart to pretend to ignore the weather. In cold weather the human body expends a lot of unnecessary energy keeping us warm if we are not wearing enough of the right kind of clothing. Authorities say that it is wiser to wear heavy things outdoors only. Over-wraps can be taken off when on heated premises. The wearing of heavy underwear leads to discomfort indoors, and doesn't make possible that addition of coverage required on going outside when the temperature is falling.

To live a double life nowadays, a man must have plenty of dough. It's all the average person can do to pay his own way.

The person who knows the value of time is usually the one who is paying the bill.

quently it nicely supplements the fabulous DDT.

The new miticide, known as DNCHP for short, has been under investigation by the Summerland Laboratory of the Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture since 1941 but only in 1947 did it come into widespread use. The investigators were satisfied for some time that it was the cheapest highly effective miticide available. But because it had heretofore been used only for other purposes and was highly concentrated they were afraid that growers, by and large, could not be depended upon to weigh accurately the very small amount necessary, one part in 8,000 parts water. Since, in weighing, an error of two ounces might result in severe injury to the fruit trees, the fact that practically no injury has occurred in hundreds of grower applications speaks well for the careful work of the British Columbia fruit grower. Next year it is expected that this new aid to the fruit industry will be available in a form specially designed for summer control of orchard mites.

PHILOSOPHY OF

Merritt. Mr. Comfert was presented with a piece of luggage and Mrs. Comfert with a spray of roses. Keen interest was aroused among the teachers by Ross M. Richardson, Union 2 Grantham, who talked on arts and crafts. Mr. Richardson had a remarkable display of work done by his school pupils in their regular periods. Emphasis was placed on work with plastics.

Winston Davies, principal of Maplewood Public School spoke on behalf of the Ontario Teachers' Federation of which he is the president. The two objects of the Federation as outlined by the president were: to guard and guide the interests of the 24,000 teachers in Ontario and to co-operate with all educational bodies to provide a superior educational system for Ontario.

Mr. Davies said, "the prestige of the teaching profession cannot be raised by legislative action. Teachers must themselves, by their unselfish interest and work in educational experiments and studies prove to the general public that teachers are deserving of a high standard of prestige. When the latter has been attained salaries and working conditions in the profession will necessarily be commensurate with the service rendered."

The convention passed a resolution forming a committee to take on a definite project, such as the compilation of a teacher's day book or a new daily register.

Officers elected for the coming year were: honorary president, W. A. Marshall, B.A., B.Ed., St. Catharines; president, Ivan Ring, Virgil; past president, Cecil Branton, Niagara-on-the-Lake; vice-president, Ross Richardson, Union 2, Grantham; secretary-treasurer, Mervin Ghent, Beamsville.

had caused the health authorities to step in and the whole train load of people had to submit to vaccination, and then a second medical examination upon arrival in San Francisco.

Attending the convention were no less than 16,000 Lions from all parts of the world, 7,000 of whom were official delegates and marched in the gorgeous and colorful parade which took two hours to pass the reviewing stand.

Lion Aub stated that he had the pleasure of listening to David Ford the State of California Lions Oratorical Contest winner and while the boy was good and his address interesting, he did not believe that he was one whit better than Grimsby's own oratorical winner, Art Brydon.

The return trip home was made by the way of the Pacific Coast states and the Canadian west. At Regina the party visited the training school of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and they were divided up into small groups and each group given a guide. The group that he was in had as guide a boy by the name of Milmine whose home is at Grassies.

The membership quota of Grimsby Lions has now been increased from 65 to 75, it was announced. The silver trophies won by the Grimsby Beach troop of Boy Scouts, donated by the Canadian Legion, West Lincoln branch, and by the Grimsby Beach Wolf Cub Pack, donated by the Beamsville Express, at the recent Scout Jamboree at Beamsville Fair, were on exhibition.

Attending the dinner as guests of the club were Walter Rushak and Barrington Garnham, Grimsby Beach; Fred Ewart, Col. A. J. C. Taylor, Dr. Jack Christie, Frank Anderson, Wilfred M. "Dyke" Lawson, C. D. Jarvis, Stanley Sharp and Richard Mitchell, Bruce Reid and Leo Martin of Beamsville were also present.

The dinner meeting of Tuesday, October 21st, will be designated as District Deputy Governor's Night. Also Lion P. V. Smith will make a report on his trip to the Ontario-Quebec Convention, held at Windsor.

FITNESS FORTIFIED

Just keeping fit isn't quite enough, if one has to grapple with some of the communicable diseases. Fitness may help to throw off infection, but it isn't complete protection against such things as bronchitis, pneumonia and influenza.

To fortify us and help to stave off certain ailments, there are available such forms of immunization as vaccination. For safety, it is essential that all such protective measures be taken particularly for children.

There is no need, however, to accept exaggerated lines, for the best designers handle changing ideas with skill. White sand felt is deftly draped into a side-slanting brim, accentuated by a lacquer red satin ribbon band and natural pheasant tails.

CONTAGION

Particularly strict adherence to the cardinal rules of defence against disease is urged by medical authorities at seasons when there is possibility of catching such infections as flu. Frequent and thorough washing of hands is essential, as is use of clean eating utensils and sanitary drinking vessels. Vinemount News

The anniversary services held in the Rock Chapel Church, Ridge Road, on Sunday were well attended with the church filled to capacity morning and evening. The minister of the Kerr-Taplestown circuit, the Rev. Houslander, was the speaker at both services. Misses Doris and Reita Thomas sang two duets at the evening service, accompanied by Rev. Houslander. Mrs. Joe Carlton was organist. The generous response by the church members of fruits, vegetables and flowers was most gratifying. The church decorated by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Jeffries, was truly a work of art and beauty.

Mrs. George Gliddon entertained a number of ladies Monday night to hear Mr. Stuart of Hamilton, explain his wares, namely Wear-Ever Brushes, etc. Prizes were won by Mrs. Howard Martin, Mrs. C. Milne and Mrs. Gliddon. The hostess was assisted by the Misses Evelyn and Elizabeth Rock and Miss Miyoko Matsufaki.

A meeting of the Women's Association of the Taplestown United church, was held at the home of Mrs. Gilman with a large attendance. The President was in charge of the business session and Miss B. Burkholder had charge of devotions. Arrangements were made for the Bazaar to be held on November 7th.

At a recent session of the Thantopis Poker Club, a distinguished producer misplayed his hand, threw his cards angrily onto the table, and declared, "I am my own worst enemy."

STUDENT STORIES

Next week we are going to begin writing the Student of the Week. This year, however, we hope to do two students a week. This way we will be able to interview more students throughout the year. We begin in first form next week. So be ready, grade nine. You never know who it might be.

P.S. We just received word that there will be a small dance held at the school on Friday night to quote our President "So the kids will have some place to go." More particulars will be given Friday morning in assembly.

A warm sun was shining on Friday afternoon as Grimsby High assembled on the playing field for the Annual Field Day. Events were run off smoothly on a clear, and well marked field. Competition was close, especially amongst the Intermediate boys. Congratulations to the Grand Champion, Paul Tokiwa who finished with a total of 33 points. Senior boys champ was John Pasche with 31 points, and Gus MacMillan carried away Intermediate boys honours with 31 points. Janice Cornwall was top girl with 20 points. Lois Taylor and Pat Harrison tied for Intermediate high girl with 15 points. And 1st former Doreen Johnson shone in the Junior girls, also with 15 points.

The sports day wound up with a rugby game between Ridley, and our boys. The following is a blow by blow account of the game on Friday. Your reporters' thanks to Ralph Farrell for his help.

BAND-BOX REVUE
We are greatly indebted to Eaton's and their representatives for the sponson-tunes they provided for our dance. They have a wonderful collection of new and old favourites. Beside the regular activities, two ping-pong tables were set up in the gym and keen competition was enjoyed by all (al meaning the ones who patiently waited in line). We should also thank the fifth formers who slaved (?) over the timely decorations. The committee requests that the students refrain from removing the decorations as souvenirs.

Several former high school pupils have asked if they would be welcome at our dance. The answer is yes. We extend a hearty welcome to all graduates.
The Band Box revue is an example of the kind of dance we hope to be holding in the school on Friday night. They promise to add much gayety to our winter.

Scouts, Cubs, flags, pennants, totem pole, tiger skin, bones, duffle bags, weary Akela and the cub all piled into the truck at 6 p.m.

Triumphant was the ride home.

BURLINGTON EDITOR PULLS NO PUNCHES

(Editorial in The Burlington Gazette)

Thanks to the splendid fight put up by the Editor of the Grimsby Independent and the Grimsby Council the Ontario Milk Board were forced to change their decision, and grant a license to another dairy in the town of Grimsby.

The town only had one dairy, and when a new dairy made application to the Milk Board for a license it was refused on the ground that there was only room for one dairy in Grimsby. The town issued a license to the dairy, and refused a point blank to prosecute the Peach King Dairy for distributing milk within the town limits without an Ontario license.

The new dairy was procuring pasteurized milk from a dairy in Hamilton, and the Milk Board in a high handed manner stopped the Hamilton Dairy from furnishing milk to the Grimsby dairy.

The Grimsby Independent published several strong editorials severely criticizing the Ontario Milk Board. Finally the Milk Board agreed to meet the Grimsby Council at Toronto on September 23rd to discuss the whole situation, with the result the license was issued to the new dairy as soon as he met certain requirements of the Milk Board.

Congratulations to Editor Livingston for his magnificent fight against a Milk Board which has altogether too much power, not always in the best interest of the consumer.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

WELCOME TO THE FOLD—BUT YOU CAN'T BEAT THE PEACH KINGS—The past ten years of local athletic history has been generously sprinkled with the name Tee Pee. . . From bowling through baseball, fastball, basketball, lawn bowling, industrial hockey and numerous other activities, the Gold and Black has steadily gained a reputation for hustling teams regardless of the field of endeavour.

Championships of National recognition came in basketball, fastball and hockey and while the efforts were noteworthy none ever achieved the pinnacle in a major, senior or junior classification.

Some months ago the incorporation of the Garden City Hockey Club presaged a move to enter the name Tee Pee into its first major area of competition. The Tee Pees of the Garden City Hockey Club, Inc., are entered for play in the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior 'A' series, replacing the franchise formerly held by the Falcons.

In an effort to give Niagara Peninsula hockey fans the very best available, an agreement was reached with Mr. Arthur Ross, general manager of the Boston Bruins of the N.H.L. whereby the Bruins would place for selection in St. Catharines all the players of junior age on their reserve list. These players came to St. Catharines and now as a result of three weeks of screening are ready to take to the ice lanes as representatives of the Garden City Tee Pees.

The job of making this most difficult selection was that of Art Jackson, coach of the Tee Pees. Jackson comes to St. Catharines with a background in hockey bettered by but few and hardly equalled by any others. From the beginning of a junior hockey career in Toronto through Marlboro's, St. Michaels, Toronto Maple Leafs and to Boston until his return to the Maple Leafs in the season of 45-46, his standard of play was so consistently good and his reputation so high that he was besieged with coaching offers upon the announcement of his retirement.

It was only natural in his first year away from the big top that the lure of the home fires was more enticing than an out of town hockey job. As a result he kept his hand in, coaching the Barkers to a Toronto championship.

Before the completion of his Toronto hockey season, Jackson was contacted by Mr. G. A. Stauffer, General Manager of Thompson Products Limited and offered the coaching spot with the embryo Tee Pees hockey squad. From that day to this Jackson has been in a whirl of off season hockey activity, travelling to the four corners of the compass in the interest of his team.

Saturday, October 25th, has been named the opening day for the Tee Pees in Oshawa. Following the inaugural the Tee Pees will open at home Friday, October 31st, against Toronto Marlboro's. A booster seat plan has been arranged. Booster ticket holders from last year will be given until Wednesday, October 8th, to renew their seat choices of last season. After that date the Booster Ticket plan will go on sale to the District hockey fans. . . As usual the price is $1.00.

To retain the privileges extended through the purchase of a booster ticket, the holder must use it for at least twelve of the home games which comprise the schedule. Failure to do so forfeits the right to the booster ticket privileges. These tickets can be obtained at the Garden City Arena ticket office.

A LITTLE BIT OF EVERY-THING—HIGH SCHOOL field day last Friday was one of the best that has been held by the school in years. Every event was hotly contested and the attendance was very large. . . PEACH QUEEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE got away to a fine start on Wednesday and Thursday nights last with 14 teams playing in competition. Sorry to relate one team had to default. The various members of the NORTON TRIBE did not set the alleys on fire. Instead a dark horse appeared on the horizon in the person of JUNE GLEDHILL of the ST. JOHN'S team. She copped the high score, high average and high triple, and won the special prize for the night. . . SOUTH HAVENS and the GOLDEN DROP played a tie game in their second game, 755 all way around. . . PEACH KINGS hockey executive held a reorganization meeting last night. Tell you all about it next week. . . It looks like the TEEPEE crowd of St. Catharines are really going into Junior "A" O.H.A. hockey in a big way. REX STIMERS is the official Public Relations galoot of the team. . . BILL HAND and his PONY EXPRESS outfit did not carry the mail too fast on Wednesday night last when they dropped two games to the IRON DUKES despite the fact that BILL was high scorer for both teams. . . LUMBER KINGS went wild when they took three straight from SHEET METAL. 472 was the highest score SHEET METAL had. . . The PIN TWISTING ZIMMERMAN family took two games from BOULEVARD. KEITH of the breed had a 709 triple. . . GAS RAHN is still hot. He had a 760 triple to help the GAS HOUSE gang beat the ROCKETS 2-1. The GASSERS had eight games over 200. . . CHARLIE CLATTENBURG and his CLIPPERS were cutting the hair short when they met the IRON KINGS. They had seven games over 200 and took down three points. JOHNNY ALLAN in two games that he played for the CLIPPERS scored 282 and 286 for a 568 double. . . JACK McCULLY one of the GREATS on Stratford hockey teams of other years has been in town the past week in charge of a crew of men doing a paint job at The Canadian Bank of Commerce. . . How much do you want to gamble that THROCKMORTON JARVIS did not retire from hockey at last night's PEACH KING meeting. . . INSURANCE BILL FISHER rolled 205-358-217 for 780 for his UNDERWRITERS team against the MOUNTAIN-ERS but were only able to take one point from the hill toppers. . . With eight games over 200 FLYERS robbed the PONY EXPRESS of three points. . . Looks like LITTLE WHIZZER and his PEACH KINGS are going some place. They took MONARCHS 2-1. GROFF rolling for the KINGS trundled a 214-258-264 for a 736. . . EAST END goose egged the IRON DUKES 3-0. . . So-o-o-o long until next week.

Old Dobbin had his faults, but they didn't have to take a driver's license away from him because of doing some foolish act.

ONE BASEBALLER TO ANOTHER

Although she's only 10, Venonica Meehan of Philadelphia plays right field for a midget team. It was only natural, therefore, for Venonica to seek an autograph from another ball player during an All-Star game in Philly. The player, no longer active, is the one and only Babe Ruth.

BIG BEN IS EMPIRE'S BEST KNOWN TIME-PIECE

Most Accurate Public Clock In The World — Annoyed The Nazis During War Time.

Big Ben, in Great Britain's House of Parliament, monarch among time tellers, whose chimes are known in every corner of the world, runs as smoothly and as perfectly on its original mechanism today as it did when it was installed nearly 90 years ago.

This world-famous part of the Westminster landscape, which is not only the largest striking clock but reportedly the most accurate public clock in the world, takes its name from its 13-ton bell upon which the hours are struck.

Its christening was a joke. When the Parliament was discussing names, a member, with one eye on big, burly Sir Benjamin Hall, first Commissioner of Works, suddenly exclaimed, "Why not Big Ben?" There were roars of laughter. But the name has stuck through the years, as it has stood for a symbol of Empire and Parliament.

Big Ben, of course, has not accomplished the impossible. It has stopped on occasions. There was the time when a rat's nest in the works brought the watch repairers who care for it running in double time to the rescue. Another occasion was when a painter rested his ladder in the wrong place and put its works out of action; also the time when it was being repaired in 1944 for air-raid damage and a workman's hammer became wedged in vital parts.

Nazi propaganda Minister Jo Goebbels knew the sentimental and far-reaching value of Big Ben. One night in 1940 the German radio radio-cast that Big Ben had struck thirteen, and the Goebbels announcer said that "superstitious people interpreted this fact as an evil omen." Messrs. Dent, clockmakers, of Cockspur street, London, who supervised Big Ben's installation and have tended it through the years, promptly explained that Big Ben just cannot strike 13. Its mechanism will not let it. It was just another German lie.

Big Ben's works are as delicate as they are intricate. Its punctuality is checked by a halfpenny for example. A tray is fixed about halfway down the pendulum which is 13 feet long and beats once every two seconds, and when the clock is losing slightly a halfpenny is placed on the tray. This makes the pendulum vibrate slightly more quickly. If the clock is gaining, a halfpenny is removed from the tray.

Modern winding technique affords some compensation to its present guardians. It used to take two men working five hours each, three times a week, to roll over 400 feet of steel cable around three huge cylinders powering the mechanism. Attached to these cables are three loads of a total weight of two and a half tons—one load for the hour-striking mechanism, the second for the chimes, and the third for the hands.

Now an electric motor supplies the power at a cost of a few pence and does the job in 40 minutes.

Here are a few other facts about Big Ben:

Four dials 22½ feet in diameter are 180 feet above ground level and are electrically illuminated at night. Each of the minute hands is 14 feet long and weighs two hundredweights. In the course of a year they travel approximately 100 miles. The hour hands are nine feet long but are far heavier than the minute hands, being about six hundredweight each.

The figures on the dials are two feet long and the spaces between the minutes are one foot square. The pendulum "bob" weighs four

BULLY FOR HER

Member of a 4-H club in Phillipsburg, N.J., Miss Phyllis Koch proudly announces that her champion bull, Bibibel, will be a contestant for new honors at the New Jersey state fair in Trenton, which opens Sept. 21.

"THE MINER COMES TO TOWN"

A huge relief map showing the mining areas of Great Britain is a feature of an exhibition opened at the Marble Arch, London, by Prime Minister Clement Attlee. Named "The Miner Comes to Town" and organized by the National Coal Board and the Ministry of Fuel and Power, the exhibition includes a replica of a coal-face, complete with miners' ponies at work. Britain's future, dependent on the output of coal, has brightened in prospect with the return of 60,000 men to the mines after a 39-day strike. Here a workman is shown putting finishing touches to the exhibit.

hundredweight and the weights which drive the clock aggregate nearly 2½ tons.

MOUTH CLEANING

Since sweet, sticky foods, left to ferment around the teeth, are known causes of tooth decay, dental experts remind Canadians that mouth cleanliness is important for general, as well as oral, health.

If it won't interfere with one's nutritional requirements, the authorities suggest that a salad, or even a stalk of celery, be eaten after sticky foods, to clean the mouth. Or, one may take a desert consisting of firm, raw fruit. This will leave the mouth in good condition.

TOOTH TROUBLES

Tooth decay, the experts agree, can't be prevented entirely, but cavities can be found and filled when they're small. A small cavity can be filled much more quickly, comfortably and cheaply than a large, neglected one.

Pyorrhea, which causes the loss of more teeth in adults than does decay, can be prevented, in most cases. Irregular teeth, also, can be aveted, in many instances, and, if detected early, can be most easily corrected.

"THE MUSKRAT" after a painting by Audrey McNaughton

YANKEE SWAN

THE EDITOR — a Conservationist

Editors of rural publications can render a valuable public service by bringing to the attention of their readers the need for, and latest developments in, conservation.

With its under-water entrance, the home of the muskrat shelters him from most of his enemies—but not from the trapline. Closed seasons have been declared by each province to prevent over-trapping. Intelligent, far-sighted trappers realize the importance of observing these laws in order that a rich harvest of muskrat fur, the raw material of 'Hudson Bay Seal', may be reaped year after year.

* The closing of the fall season for muskrat gave the animals the protection of a shortened open season, and at the same time increased the value of the annual catch by eliminating unprime fall skins.

* An excerpt from—CONSERVATION and CANADA'S FUR-BEARING ANIMALS by Stuart C. Downing, one in a series of pamphlets published by The Carling Conservation Club.

TORONTO MAN CREDITED WITH CREATION OF STANDARD TIME

Sandford Fleming Aways Back In 1878 Saw The Folly Of People Being Fooled By Sun Dials, Hour Glasses And Marked Candles — But Not Daylight Time.

(Toronto Evening Telegram)

When citizens turned back their clocks to Standard Time, Sunday, few realized that this world-wide system of measuring time was invented by a Canadian, Sandford Fleming, in Toronto.

Despite universal use of Standard Time, Fleming's only memorial is a plaque on the Sons of England building at 58 Richmond St. east, Toronto.

It was at midnight on November 18, 1883, that the world was given a lead when clocks and watches in Canada and the United States were set at uniform times. This disregarded prevailing sun time and local time.

But long before this Sandford Fleming had won fame. Coming to Canada in 1845 from Scotland, he travelled from Montreal to Toronto and established himself as a civil engineer.

Ten years later he entered into partnership with a young Englishman, Collingwood Schreiber, in an office on King street. The two became leaders in Canada's railway development. Together, they were instrumental in laying the route of both the Intercolonial and Canadian Pacific Railways.

It was the railroads that first adopted Standard Time in 1883. Not until later did cities and towns abandon local time.

Formerly when transport was slow and people generally lived within their own communities, each settlement had its own local time, based on the sun. Longitude determined differences in sun time between communities. Because the sun seemed to travel 360 degrees around the world in 24 hours, a community which was one degree further west than another in the same latitude had the sun rise and set four minutes later. This meant that if it were noon at Toronto, it would be 11.45 a.m. in Windsor and 12.23 p.m. at Montreal.

Local times, when accurately kept, tended to conform to sun-time, and noon came when the sun reached its highest point.

Time was reckoned and recorded by sun dials, hour glasses, or by marked candles.

All this was very confusing to travellers. Often there were four clocks at a railway station. The

"TURNS" NEGRO

He is doing this to help end anti-Negro discrimination. Members of his congregation have reacted favorably to his announcement.

traveller had to do a quick sum in arithmetic before he could decide when his train would start.

In his travels, Mr. Fleming saw the folly of this. So in 1878, during a Christmas holiday, he studied in his King street office his plan to create a unified time.

There was a meeting of the Canadian Institute in Richmond street on Jan. 25, 1879, and at this one of Mr. Fleming's first papers—Absolute Time—was read. A watch which Sir Sandford, as he became later, had designed to record a 24-hour day, was exhibited also.

On Feb. 8, Mr. Fleming read a second paper to the Institute "on the selection of a prime meridian." This was the first public suggestion of Standard Time. It meant merely a division of the globe into 24 time belts with a width of 15 degrees each, the time advancing by one hour in each belt toward the east of the prime meridian and lessening by one hour in each belt to the west.

"My father told me that he realized a change in time reckoning was necessary while travelling in Ireland," wrote the founder's son, Hugh Fleming, in 1934.

"He was driven from his host's house to a remote station to catch a morning train (say 7.30). The jaunting car left him there to find no one about so he had to wait there until 7.30 in the evening."

ELECTRICITY

Maintains Employment...

Keeps Pay Envelopes Full

PLEASE DON'T WASTE IT!

Electric power is vital to Industry, and Ontario is experiencing an era of high production, unparalleled in its history. Contrary to expectations, the demand for electric power did not drop sharply following the war. More electric power is actually being used today for production of peacetime goods than was required at any time to forge weapons for Victory. This demand is constantly increasing and, during the next six months, Hydro facilities will be strained to the utmost.

New Hydro developments, planned to keep pace with Ontario's growth, were halted during the war years. They have since been hampered by shortages of men, materials and equipment. However many new stations to deliver electric power are being rushed to completion. Some are already in operation. But the need for saving electric power in your own home, during the Fall and Winter months, is urgent if the needs of Industry and Agriculture are to be fully served and employment maintained at peak levels.

Won't you please play your part? Remember—even a little bit of electricity, conserved by hundreds of thousands, helps a lot. It's your Hydro. Use it wisely so that Hydro facilities can more adequately meet the demands of all consumers.

Here are a few ways you can Save ELECTRICITY

Turn off all unnecessary lights. Don't forget about burning lights in empty rooms, halls, basement, attic, porch and garage. Eliminate all colored bulbs.

Keep lamps, reflectors and shades clean. Dusty fixtures waste as much as 25% of your light.

When kettle sings, turn off switch. Stoved heat will bring it to a full boil. Keep kettle free from lime.

When cooking, use "High" heat for as little time as possible. Then turn to "Low" and use stoved heat.

Use oven for cooking complete meals, rather than the cooking surface. Only one element is required for the oven process while three or four elements are needed for the cooking surface.

Use the correct size of cooking utensil on the proper size element.

When cooking vegetables, use a minimum amount of water.

Defrost refrigerator, regularly, when 1/4 inch of frost has accumulated on the evaporator.

Where water is electrically heated, please use it sparingly. A drop a second from a leaking hot water tap can waste as much as 175 gallons a month.

Fill washing machine to water line only and keep lid on tub when washing. Do not overload.

Whenever possible, use the wringer at same time as clothes are being washed in the tub.

Please do not use portable electric heaters as they place a heavy strain on your Hydro System.

Your toaster, vacuum cleaner, electric iron or other electrical appliances should not be used any longer than required.

ORIGINAL SETTLEMENT SIX NATIONS RESERVE

When America was first discovered by the early explorers of Europe, they found Canada inhabited by Iroquois, Huron and Algonquin Indians. The Iroquois tribe lived in the United States, in the Mohawk Valley, what is now New York State, south of Lake Ontario. The famous Iroquois confederacy had found British officials trustworthy.

In the time of the Seven Years' War in Europe, England tried to tax the American colonies. The colonies revolted and declared themselves independent of Great Britain.

When the American colonists talked of rebellion, the Iroquois tribe under the Mohawk Chief Captain Joseph Brant remained loyal to the British Crown. During that time, Captain Joseph Brant, the leader of the Iroquois tribe, crossed the sea to London. In 1778 he met King George III, the ministers of State, and many other distinguished people. He sailed homeward in the autumn of 1778. With his people he fought gallantly on the side of the Loyalists.

In the years that followed a guerilla warfare was waged in New York between the Loyalists and the Revolutionists. It was a bitter struggle, but in 1776 the Americans won the war and declared their independence from Britain.

When the war was over the whole territory of the Iroquois passed to the United States. The Iroquois tribe rather than remain under the Americans set up new homes in British territory.

In 1784 Brant went to see Sir Frederick Haldimand, the Governor of Canada, in order to receive a grant of land for the Six Nations. After some agreement with the British government, Brant obtained a grant of land six miles wide on each side of the Grand River from its mouth to its source.

Brant sold most of the land which belonged to the Indians—claiming that it was a gift to them and they could do anything with it, as they wished. The land which is now left on the Six Nations Reserve, is about 160 square miles, the population is 5,500 people.

The industry of the people is mixed farming, the soil is very rich. There are schools, churches and a hospital for the people. Their houses are very comfortable. The people of the reserve will live on and enjoy this land forever.

HISTORIC REGIMENT IS ONLY A MEMORY

A British line unit closely linked with the history of the Maritime Provinces has been disbanded at Sheffield, England, ending 172 years of service.

The Second Battalion York and Lancaster Regiment was originally recruited among loyal colonists as the Young Royal Highland Emigrants in the Maritimes, New York and Newfoundland, when the first American revolution shots were fired in 1775.

Generally known as the Royal Emigrants, their ranks were filled by sons of early settlers and veterans recalled to the colors. They garrisoned New Brunswick and Nova Scotia during the revolution, later settled in the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario, and were ancestors of many well known families still living in Eastern Canada.

Of the British line regiments raised in the American colonies, the King's Royal Rifle Corps is the only active fighting force remaining.

The regiment, with loyalists and troops evacuated from Boston, went through the tragic winter of 1775-76 short of food, ammunition and clothing. Seven companies of the second battalion were posted at garrisons at Fort Howe, Saint John; Fort Edward, Windsor, N.S.; Fort Cornwallis, N.S.; Fort Monckton, Port Elgin, N.B., and Fort Cumberland (Amherst, N.S.).

Retreating "rebels" who failed the 1777 assault on Fort Mifflin, were pursued toward the sea by the Royal Emigrants, in company of royal marines. In 1781 the first battalion bound in Quebec during the revolution descendants of its veterans are the Glengarry and Cornwall regiments of Ontario. The unit and largely recruited from veterans of the 78th Fraser Highlanders in 42nd Black Watch. Many with forces of Sir Guy Carle defending Quebec.

A small town is the place where they move the checker game from under a shade tree to the stove in the winter time.

Special ceremonies at Montreal and Lachine on September 18 will mark the 100th anniversary of the event. It is a far cry from the ornate little passenger carriages of a century ago to the smooth-riding air-conditioned cars of present-day railroading, from the primitive woodburners to the giant locomotives, from the eight-mile railroad to the 24,000 miles of the Canadian National system into which it grew.

cocoa (made with milk). They all fed well, each troop making their own arrangements.

At 8.30 a.m. there was the general parade for "Flag Break" when the Jack is "broken" at the mast head, repeat the Scout promise, a short prayer and then the orders for the day.

A party of Girl Guides from the Jordan Company under the command of Captain Dorothy Houtby and representatives from the Winona Troop arrived just after parade.

The observation competition was the first event of the day. Each troop of any strength, had fifteen minutes in the Fair building in which to observe the exhibits. Marching back to camp they had twenty minutes to prepare one complete list, marks being given according to length and correctness. This was won by the Grimsby Beach Troop.

In the afternoon the Wolf Cubs carried out the same competition. Grimsby Beach Wolf Cub Pack winning. The Judges were District Scoutmaster J. Baker and District Cubmaster C. Mote.

Lunch, another good smelling meal and then the "Grand Parade" of Scouts and School Children. District Commissioner Reg. Jackson, of St. Catharines, kindly arranged for the Scout Pipe Band and thirty scouts to attend from his district. The Pipe Band headed the Scouts, Cubs and Girl Guides on the march and past the Saluting base. The salute was taken by District Commissioner S. Gibson. On the return march the Wolf Cub Packs gave their "Grand Howl."

The Jordan Troop put on a fine display of gadgets and it was interesting to watch the two scouts whittling.

During the afternoon the Scouts, Cubs and Girl Guides formed a horse shoe and the Grimsby Pack gave an exhibition of "Jungle dances."

The competition in knot tying was won by the Grimsby Beach troop. They have done well, three prizes to the Beach.

The challenge cups were presented by the Beamsville Express and the Canadian Legion, West Lincoln Branch, No. 127.

Among the visitors were Asst. District Commissioner George Weherley and S. M. Bob Lumsden from St. Catharines, C. Bell, Chairman of the Grimsby Beach Group, Mr. Johnson, Chairman Grimsby Group, R. Bourne, Chairman Lions B's' and Girls' Committee and Eric T. Banks, President Canadian Legion, No. 127.

Supper, more good smells, strike canvas, clean up, put out fires and so ends the first Jamboree held by the Fruit Belt District Boy Scouts. Camp Chief

SIGNS OF AGING COME TO ALL

A man who makes his living guessing the weight and age of all-comers, pointed out, in a recent interview, some of the signs that steer him toward the correct appraisal of a woman's age.

At 20, horizontal lines begin to appear on a woman's neck.

At 25, crisscross lines on her hands begin to deepen.

After 30, waist and hips start to thicken.

At 35, come the tell-tale wrinkles about the eyes.

At 40, folds beneath the eyes appear.

After 50, the mouth grows grim.

Now there are some statistics every woman ought to thumbback to a drawer of her dressing table, to save herself many a despairing moment, says a well-known writer.

Women, as a rule, take each sign of age as a personal tragedy and a startling surprise. They are shocked when they discover their first gray hairs, upset when they notice that laughter lines at the corners of the mouth have deepened into wrinkles, discouraged when crow's feet appear.

It might ease them over these rude shocks to know that such signs of age are not only inevitable, but most of them come to all women at approximately the same age.

Most important of all is the age-guesser's observation that, after 50, a woman's mouth grows grim. For that is something a woman might be able to prevent. Grimness is self-inflicted.

GRANNY TRIES 'CHUTE

An American grandmother who packed 3,600 parachutes for the army during the war tried one out recently "just to see if they really do work."

The parachute "worked" and the woman—a Mrs. Sneed—commented happily as she picked herself up from the mud after her 4,000-foot jump:

"I'm as thrilled as a little country girl on a picnic."

Mrs. Sneed who changed harnesses on 11,000 more in addition to packing the 'chutes, is now employed in the drapery department of a Denver store. The other day she decided she "just wanted to ride on some of that silk I'd been handling."

She rented two parachutes, repacked them and then hired a pilot to take her up. In true grandmotherly fashion, she carried along some crocheting to while away the time until she reached the desired altitude for "hitting the silk."

"When I gave her the nod, she took off just like she was stepping out of an elevator," the pilot remarked admiringly.

It seems the great outdoors beckons to insects as well as human beings.

A boy didn't need much money in grandpa's day. There weren't any juke organs, comic books, bubble gum or pinball machines.

Attempted to Force Canadian to Marry Him

Francis Hearn, of Los Angeles, is pictured in the San Diego, Calif., county jail calmly puffing on a cigarette. He was caught at the international border after allegedly forcing Miss Victoria Clifford, a Canadian girl who lived in Los Angeles, at the point of a knife to accompany him to Tijuana, Mexico, where he wanted her to marry him.

Lots to be thankful for...

We have lots to be thankful for in Canada: for our rich soil and abundant crops; for our capable farmers and their families who grow and harvest these fine foods; for our fine cities, homes, schools and churches; for a country whose natural resources become ever more apparent for a people with the will to do things; for our democratic way of life which sets a premium on good living and right thinking, offering bountiful rewards to those with personal initiative. Yes, we have lots to be thankful for in Canada.

Panama Papers Printed In Two Languages

A dozen daily newspapers are published in the Republic of Panama, and six of them definitely lead the field. It is impossible to buy the week-day edition of any one of these six leading newspapers of Panama. You must buy two, of them. And the two won't be in the same language!

The Star and Herald, now in its 98th year, is Panama's oldest English-language newspaper. La Estrella is Panama's oldest Spanish-language newspaper. Both are owned by the same publisher, are printed on the same press at the same time and are sold together as one unit for one price. Yet the editorial and advertising staffs of these papers are separate and the front pages may not bear much resemblance to each other. Two newspapers for the price of one. And one not available at any price!

El Panama America is a Spanish-language newspaper in its 22nd year of publication. The Panama American is its English counterpart. Both are printed simultaneously and sold as a single unit.

This is also true of La Nacion, a Spanish newspaper now in its fourth year, and The Nation, its English partner, which appeared last year for the first time. These mentioned comprise the six leading newspapers of Panama.

Remember, of these six leading papers, three in English and three in Spanish, you can't buy one but you can buy two. It's simply impossible to purchase the English section of any of these newspapers without the Spanish section. You can buy the complete paper and throw one section away, but you can't get the newsboy to do it for you. It just isn't done.

This bilingual factor in Panamanian newspapers is very important to them. It means considerable expense, for each publisher has two completely separate staffs, editorial and otherwise, to handle the differing language sections. Nevertheless, the publishers won't consider publishing separate sections to conserve newsprint, the scarcity of which is most critical. Despite the fact that one newspaper is deliberating cancelling its Monday edition because of lack of

NOTICE

We at the GRIMSBY FLOUR AND FEED would like to pass on to our customers the reasons why we are unable to supply at various times the kind of feed you order or are in the habit of using, particularly oat chop, barley chop, mixed chop, rolled oats and scratch feeds. In fact everything we manufacture from coarse grains.

We do have a medium supply of these grains, but not enough to supply the tremendous demand.

Following is a telegram that was sent to the Hon. J. A. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, and the Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, which is self-explanatory.

"We understand from reliable sources that the Cabinet has decided neither to remove nor raise the ceiling price on coarse grains. Stop In view of the widely held belief throughout Western Canada particularly that an increase in price would be permitted it is absolutely essential that the Government make a clear public statement of their intentions in this respect. Stop Failure to do so will only result in prolonging the already serious stalemate in the movement of feed grains and lead to a tragic and costly error for Eastern Canadian feeders who will have to sacrifice their livestock because of lack of feed. Stop In fairness to the farmers who have done their utmost to produce livestock and poultry products so that we could meet our commitments to Britain this should be done immediately. Stop" newsprint, an estimated 42 1/2 per cent of all copies sold by the six leading newspapers of Panama are thrown away unread, not even looked at.

SUPER-MICROSCOPE

Another wonder of the electronic age is the electron microscope, which makes it possible to see things far too small to be visible with the best ordinary microscope. Under its enormous magnification a dime would appear a mile in diameter, a human hand like a giant Douglas fir tree, a blood corpuscle as big as a two-foot pillow. With the electron microscope scientists have learned what the extremely small viruses of influenza and other diseases look like.
